TO A PINE FOREST
A pine forest is one of the most beautiful features of nature. Of all quiet scenes it is surely the quietest. The harsh sounds of the busy human world, and even the dreary murmur of summer, are hushed there; no song of bird or hum of insect disturbs the solemn stillness; and only at rare intervals the mournful coo of a dove, making the solitude more profound, is heard in the deeper recesses. The weary, care worn spirit breathes in the serenity of the silence, and feels the charm and refreshment of its highest life. The trunks of the trees have caught the ripened red of many vanished summers, and are bearded with long streaming tufts of grey lichen, which impart to them a weird, savage appearance; but they are touched with grace by the wild flowers growing at their roots; childhood sporting in unconscious loveliness at the feet of old age. They form long drawn avenues of green, like the pillared halls of Karnaak, or the Thousand Columns of Constantinople, which are indescribably attractive, for they appeal to that love of mystery which exists in every mind; they reveal only enough to stimulate the imagination, and lead it onward to lovelier scenes beyond. Life itself without these vistas of expectation would not be worth living. —Rev. Hugh MacMillan.

A Perpetual Whirligig
Camphor is the motive power which drives the device shown in the illustration, and it will cause the whirling motion to revolve for several days, until the camphor is consumed. The whirling is made of a piece of cork, 1/2 inch square, with a needle stuck into each of its four sides. Smaller pieces of cork, to which pieces of camphor have been fixed by means of sealing wax, are attached to the ends of the needles. Care should be taken to keep the needles and cork free from oil or grease, as this will retard their movement. As soon as the device is placed in a dish of water it will start whirling and continue to do so as long as motive power is supplied. A small flag or other ornament may be attached to the centre of cork, from which the whirling motion is imparted.

ARE YOU GOING TO DECORATE?
It is interesting to note that while 25 feet is the standard width of a lot in Winnipeg, it is 35 in Edmonton and 50 in Victoria. The average width of the lots in Victoria, Professor Haig says, that there is no indication that the city has prevented the liberal use of land for residential purposes. Figures with respect to the percentage of land built upon in ten different cities are not complete. It is estimated at forty per cent in Regina; twenty per cent in Edmonton; and between sixty and seventy per cent in Victoria. The percentage is not given for Winnipeg or Vancouver, but the density of population is given at 127 persons per acre in Winnipeg and 100 in Vancouver. It is, however, quite safe to say that not twenty-five per cent of the land inside the limits of the city of Winnipeg is built upon.

Helped Building Trade
The exemption of improvements from taxation has been universally followed by a marked increase in building operations. Although the taxes have not been very heavy, it is a general rule to stop land speculation. Professor Haig states that the town of Castor, Alta., has been freed from land speculation can be stopped by means of taxation as owing to heavy taxation there is no heavy speculation. It is also noted that the tax on idle land in Saskatchewan is having the effect of bringing many large holdings into cultivation.

CLEVER GRAIN HANDLING
Elevators of Canada Dry and Clean Wheat
The method of handling grain in elevators at Port Arthur or Fort William is described as follows: If the car which is being unloaded on the way to the elevator is to be cleaned it is dropped from the scale into a hopper on the ground floor, from which the cleaning machines lead, and the exact percentages of small seeds, dust, etc., as given by the government inspection of the car is taken out. As the grain is passed from the cleaning machines it is elevated, weighed, and sent on to the storage tanks. This cleaning is done under the eye of government officials. If the grain just unloaded is "rejected," otherwise musty wheat, and it has been ordered to be "scoured," it practically goes through the same process as the grain which was to be cleaned, except that it is passed through the scouring machines or smelters instead of the cleaning machines. If the car is out of condition on account of excessive rain during unloading, and it has been ordered to be "scoured," it practically goes through the same process as the grain which was to be cleaned, except that it is passed through the scouring machines or smelters instead of the cleaning machines.

COST OF BAD ROADS
Much Greater Than Cost of Good to Farmers

Farmers have begun to figure the matter of roads a little differently than in former years. When the good roads movement was in its infancy they used to ask themselves, "How much of a road is worth the cost?" Thanks to the intelligent propaganda of the dairy and farm papers, as well as other agencies, farmers are now asking themselves, "How much are roads costing me?" The cost of hauling a ton of farm produce a mile varies from seven to ten cents, in localities where fairly hard gravel roads exist, to thirty-five cents per ton in parts of the country where the roads are in bad condition. On the other hand, in those European countries where roads are well maintained, the cost is as low as nine cents per ton per mile. The United States Department of Agriculture estimates that the total haulage expense to American farmers for a year is approximately $500,000,000. And every dollar comes from the farmer's pocket, for he is the one great producer who cannot avoid the haulage expense to his warehouses, for the prices he gets are on a delivered basis. If every farmer would take pencil and paper, figure the amount in tons of the produce he hauls to market in a year, multiply it by the number of miles about the average haulage cost per ton per mile, and then consider that he could save nearly half the cost every year if he had an improved road all the way to his market, he would become an earnest good roads worker.

INTERESTING LIGHT ON CANADIAN TAXES
Western Systems Studied by Columbia Professor—Gives Much Material on Cities

Professor Robert Murray Haig, instructor in economics at Columbia University, prepared an elaborate report on the exemption of improvements from taxation in the United States and Canada for the Committee on Taxation of the City of New York. Professor Haig spent some time in Canada investigating systems of municipal taxation. The Professor points out the difference between value taxation for municipal revenues and the Single Tax. By taking the voters' lists for various cities and working out the percentages of tenants and owners from the data furnished, he has compiled statistics on home ownership. In Winnipeg 63.6 per cent. of the voters are owners, while in Vancouver, 46.5 per cent. are tenants. In Regina the percentage of houses which are occupied by the owners is approximately sixty-five. In Edmonton sixty to sixty-five. Sixty per cent. of the voters in Vancouver are owners, according to the voters' list. It is estimated that eighty per cent. of the houses in Victoria are occupied by their owners. It is interesting to note that while 25 feet is the standard width of a lot in Winnipeg, it is 35 in Edmonton and 50 in Victoria. The average width of the lots in Victoria, Professor Haig says, that there is no indication that the city has prevented the liberal use of land for residential purposes. WOMAN INVENTORS

Women inventors are constantly increasing in number, and among those who achieved success is a woman who perfected sport kettles, tea kettles, coffee pots and tea utensils. She not only has a special sport design in these, but also a battle plate at the bottom of the kettle, which in conjunction with the spout causes a smooth, controllable stream to issue from the spout. Another woman has invented an egg beater that consists of a single piece of resilient wire bent spiral shape over the handle strand. It is said to conform to the size and shape of the dish or bowl in which it is used. One of the newest clothepins is fitted with a spring so that it can be closed upon the clothes and the garment suspended from it. A groove is cut in the upper end of the pin, in order that the clothes line will fit in it, and the inner lower surface of the pin that clamps the garment is corrugated, so that the drying article will not slip. Excellent lunch boxes have been provided for children, their bottles included, an invention of a woman. These boxes are of metal or tin. Lots of them have adjustable compartments, so that the contents can be neatly packed and kept in place.

HOW TO OVERCOME SHORTNESS OF BREATH
Tight Lacing and Overeating Form Chief Causes of Shortness of Breath—Hints on How to be Healthy

If you wish to overcome shortness of breath and heart fluttering learn to control the breath and void clavicular breathing. Lack of self-control is the result of nervous disorder, and this is usually the cause of heart fluttering and shortness of breath. First of all you must learn to command your breath and carry the chest up and high and absolutely independent of the breath. Tight clothing, belts, collars and corsets and too much food are a few of the various causes of nervous carriage, incorrect and shallow breathing and heart fluttering. Practice Nasal Breathing. Take a deep, full breath before mounting the stairs, holding the chest high, then check the diaphragm so as to control it on its upward movement. A few minutes practice of this exercise each day will soon relieve you of shortness of breath. Make nasal breathing a habit, and not matter how short of breath you may be at the top of a hill or flight of stairs hold the mouth tightly closed until you have returned to normal breathing. Catarrh and many throat and nasal disorders would be unknown if all persons breathed through the nose at all times. No set of exercises are so important as the deep breathing ones, and too much stress cannot be laid on the benefits which may be derived from constant practice on them.

DISHES WITH EGGS
Delicious Luncheons Can be Made by Trying Out Directions Below

When eggs are cheap, it is well to use them freely in the luncheon menu. There are many egg recipes that make delicious luncheon dishes. The breakfast egg is apt to be served with a tiresome amount of variety as a rule, but the meal must be prepared quickly; but preparing luncheon the excuse is not valid. Golden cream toast is an attractive dish, and is easily prepared. Cut bread into even pieces; toast and butter the pieces and melt them with hot water. Boil six eggs hard. Separate the whites from the yolks; chop the whites and press yolks through a colander. Make a white sauce of one tablespoon of flour cooked together, and a cup of cream or milk added. When this cream is thickened, add the chopped whites, and season with pepper and salt. Spread this mixture on slices of toast and cover the top with the mashed yolks. Serve very hot. Moulded Ham and Eggs—Run a cup of boiled ham through the meat chopper. Moisten it with a white sauce and a raw egg, mix together. Cover the bottom of individual egg dishes with this mixture. Break an egg in the centre of each dish and poach in the oven for eight or ten minutes. Garnish each dish with parsley. Eggs and Rice—Boil some eggs hard, and cut them into halves. Make a ring form of boiled rice; fill the centre with the eggs, and pour over them a white sauce. Sprinkle the top with bread crumbs, and grate over all a thick layer of cheese. Moisten the top with melted butter, or put little dots of butter over the top, and place the dish in the oven to brown. Do not let the stand before serving. It should be served very hot, as soon as the cheese has set and is slightly browned.

Sir Sam Hughes Met President Poincare of France
Minister of Militia Has Returned to England After a Brief Visit To The Front

London, Aug. 24.—Sir Sam Hughes who returned to England, to-day, crossed to France last Thursday. He was met shortly after his arrival by General Garnet Hughes, with whom he immediately motored to the Canadian battle lines. Next day he reviewed most of the Dominion troops along the front or in the vicinity. He spent part of the following day reviewing among other units, the 14th Canadian Corps headquarters, conferring with General Sir Julian Byng, commanding the Canadians, and the various other generals. The Princess Patricia's, hearing their colors, among other battalions, paraded before the minister of militia. On Saturday Sir Sam lunched with Lord Rothermere, Sir Julian Byng, commanding the Canadians, and the various other generals. "Scotty" Is Not Suffering From Spinal Meningitis
This is Statement of Dr. MacNab Who is Attending Him at Hospital

Despite the publication of the very alarming news to the effect that "Scotty" McLeads, who is a sergeant major in the 187th battalion, was taken to the City of London hospital yesterday afternoon in a serious condition, suffering from cerebral spinal meningitis, Dr. MacNab says that "Scotty" is not suffering from the dreaded disease. "I am quite sure that it is not spinal meningitis," said the doctor this afternoon. "At the hospital this morning he appeared much brighter, and, though he is not yet out of danger, I entertain every hope for his recovery. The report that was current here yesterday, to the effect that he had the dreaded disease, is untrue, as I am firmly convinced 'Scotty' will recover." This news will be received with considerable relief by local sport followers, in which "Scotty" has distinguished himself for many years. He is a keen athlete in practically all lines, and the report which he has been suffering from the dreaded disease, is untrue, as I am firmly convinced 'Scotty' will recover.

An Honest Man is Turned Down By Scott Government
He Told of Crookedness And as a Result Loses His Job

Regina, Sask., Aug. 22.—Alexander Milne, the man who gave the Conservative organization information from the government offices which resulted in the exposure of frauds aggregating $60,000 by J. P. Brown and E. H. Devine, M.L.A., has been discharged by the government. Milne having enlisted some months ago, the dismissal has no effect on him. His wife, however, who has been drawing a portion of his salary since his enlistment, is cut off from the grant. Milne, now a sergeant in the 195th Trench, acted from a high sense of public duty in giving the information to W. J. Gallon, Conservative organizer. He had repeatedly complained about irregularities passing through the books in the auditor's branch and had been told practically to mind his own business. So in place of the information he gave to the public instead of to his superiors whom he suspected already knew. He received no remuneration or consideration of any kind.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest Land Regulations.

The sole head of a family, or any other person, who has been a resident in Canada for at least 14 years, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. Applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the District. Entry by proxy may be made at any Dominion Lands Agency (not Sub-Agency), on certain conditions.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within five miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, on certain conditions. A habitable house is required except where residence is performed in the vicinity. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Six months residence in each of three years after earning homestead patent; also 50 acres extra cultivation. Pre-emption patent may be obtained as soon as homestead patent, on certain conditions. A settler who has exhausted his homestead right may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate 50 acres and erect a house worth $200. The area of cultivation is subject to reduction in case of rough, scrubby or stony land. Live stock may be cultivated for cultivation under certain conditions.

Had Great Scheme To Poison Entire Canadian Army

Pro-German of Suffield Told His Story to the Wrong Person

Lethbridge, Aug. 23.—When Sam Farrow of Suffield, red hot Socialist and alleged pro-German, poured his tale of woe regarding the war and Britain's unrighteous part in the war of a sympathetic (?) acquaintance of a few hours, he did not know that said sympathetic ear belonged to a detective of the headquarters staff of "K" division, R. N. W. M.P., who was passing as a German for a purpose. Had he known, it is not likely he would have unfolded to the sympathetic detective a plan which he believed would mean the wholesale murder of Canadian troops in training camps in Western Canada. Farrow's scheme for the destruction of troops in training camps calls for the securing of a large quantity married man he would cross to the other side of the line, and as a Britisher he would have no trouble in presenting himself to the German ambassador to get a job as a spy in the German secret service. That would be the height of his ambition. He boasted that in the past year he had restrained five men from enlisting, showing them that Canada has no right to take any part in the war.

Farrow was committed for trial and will think the matter over while awaiting British justice at the coming session of the supreme court here. He is confined to the mounted police barracks here.

She Knew Him

A Scottish minister was once busy catechising his young parishioners before the congregation, when he put the usual first question to a girl whose father kept a public house: "What is your name?" No reply. The question having been repeated, the girl replied: "Noan o' your fun, sir; ye ken my name weel enough. I've no say when ye come tae our hoose at night. Betty, bring me some toddy?" The congregation, forgetting the sacredness of the place, broke into a loud laugh and the parson looked daggers. —Philadelphia Star.

GERMANY'S GUNS HAVE HARD FIGHT TO KEEP PLACES

Must Stop and Be Knocked Out or Retire to New Positions

London, Aug. 23.—The statement made by the German commander-in-chief on the Somme in a recent interview to the effect that at the beginning of the British offensive he was only able to place batteries at every eight hundred yards of the line of defense, whereas he was now able to concentrate batteries at intervals of every hundred yards, attracted attention at the British headquarters in France. Reuter's correspondent telegraphs under Sunday's date: "This may possibly be true, for it is certain that the Germans have hurried up every available gun. But the German commander-in-chief is in an infinitely worse position in regard to being able to place his artillery effectively than at the beginning of the British offensive. The value of the larger proportion of guns in the field can only be measured by the ability to use them successfully, when we talk about fighting for position the phrase means primarily gun positions. The ponderous process of creeping forward is always going on, which means that the German artillery must be always retreating or courting destruction. As an artillery officer put it, the time is rapidly approaching when the German guns from Beaumont, Hamel to Bayonne must choose between Silba and Charybides. They must either stop and be knocked out or get out, for we are fighting a great winning battle of position."

THE ALBERTA PRESS MEETING

Probably there has never been in the history of the Province of Alberta a meeting of the newspaper men fraught with so much interest and instruction as that held in Calgary last week.

The big newspaper men could not do enough for the visitors and they vied with each other in extending the right hand of fellowship to every brother in the craft and their genial smiles extended to their sanctioning where, gentle reader, you will have noticed all their pleasant little passages at arms were dropped for the time being, and big matters of interest to the newspaper world were discussed with a kindly feeling that was a surprise to some who may not know that all true newspaper men have hearts as big, and noble, and loyal as any class of men in the world. They are harassed with great responsibilities, they are continually dealing with grave matters of state, they have a thousand cares that beset them daily, but they laid them aside as matters of small importance when their brethren of the province invaded the city.

We, therefore, take off our hat to the newspaper men of Calgary.

F. W. Galbraith, retiring President is to be congratulated on the splendid results of the meeting, as it is the beginning of a new era of better days for the newspapermen of the province of Alberta.

The President elect, A. J. N. Terrell, editor of the Medicine Hat News, is a worthy successor to brother Galbraith, a man of sterling worth and the pressman of Alberta delighted to honor. We feel sure under his guidance the Association will prosper, until every newspaper man in Alberta is enrolled in the Association of which he is the honored head.

CANADA IS IN GOOD HANDS

Never had Canadians greater reason to be proud of their country than they have at the end of this two years of war. They can confidently vouch for the competence and ability to look it over, and defy him to show a single flaw or weakness in any part of it. Its wealth, its credit, its currency, its national outfit, its resources and its prospects are as bright as ever. There has been no war. Is there any other of the belligerent countries that shows a greater ratio of reserve power to fighting weight engaged than Canada?

The country has been well handled. Had it not been, its affairs would have been in a far less happy state than they are today. To plot a path through the greatest war that has ever afflicted the world would have been a tremendous task for Government in any case. What added to the difficulty was the condition of unpreparedness in which the war found us. The unpreparedness was not simply military. If war-time has been a period of self-denial, retrenchment and national effort, peace-time had been one of very large outlay expenditure on national development and general extravagance on the part of the people. On the strength of the country's prosperity the late Government had committed it to undertakings that might well have been deferred, or at least greatly reduced in scale and carried out with less lavish expenditure of money. Of this policy of squandering the public money and piling up the public liabilities the legacy came to be administered when two of the transcontinental railway systems began to get into financial difficulty. Their troubles became acute when the Government was in the midst of the war crisis. Other large questions, the fruits of past recklessness, have also had to be grappled with in the war-time. The excesses of land speculation in the West, excesses that could never have developed to such an extent had not the administration of the public domain in that part of the country been notorious for graft in the days of the late Government, made the financial situation harder to deal with in war-time. But the statesmanship of the Borden Government has been equal to the tremendous requirements of the time. To-day the country is in a very enviable situation. True, there are problems still to be solved. The war has swollen the public debt. The work of post-bellum settlement is before us. Large as these tasks are, the country faces them cheerfully, the more so because it has confidence in the men at the head of affairs. It ought to have. Never could administrators give a better account of their stewardship than the members of the Borden Government can. The record they have made in the war-time will shine in the annals of the Dominion for ages to come.

Liberal papers are trying to make out that South West Toronto went against the government for all sorts of things, but they all know there was only one reason and that was that the government was bringing in prohibitory legislation against the sale of booze in September and that South West Toronto is probably the strongest anti-prohibition district in Canada.

Sheep and Swine Sale

The auction sale of sheep and Swine Breeders' Associations, Ltd., in the stock pavilion on the Edmonton Exhibition grounds, promises to be very successful.

The Secretary has heard from a large number of breeders who are anxious to introduce new blood into their herds and flocks, and the present condition of the sheep and swine industry has fully justified the holding of this sale.

The committee of management are only accepting offers of purebred swine, but for the sheep sale a number of grade ewes will be accepted. After the entries close, on Tuesday, September 26th, the committee of management will issue a catalogue, which it is expected will be ready for distribution about October 2nd.

The Associations are undertaking to pay one-half the transportation charges on live stock, both incoming and outgoing, and efforts are now being made to secure reduced passenger rates for this event.

The Secretary, W. J. Stark, Edmonton, will forward full particulars of this sale on receipt of a postal card from anyone who wishes entry forms or catalogues.

Bubonic Plague Has Made Appearance In Bristol
New York, Aug. 18.—A cable to the World from Bristol, England, dated yesterday, says: "Three cases of the dreaded bubonic plague have been discovered in Bristol, on the southwest coast of England, one of the greatest British ports. The cases were reported by Dr. Davies, health officer of Bristol, said to the correspondent today: 'Three cases have been traced to rats, which, it is supposed, were inoculated purposely with bubonic plague. There is no evidence that the disease was brought here on a ship, or that the infection came from America. The method by which the disease was introduced is obscure, but is being investigated carefully.'"

The Horticultural Society's Show

A Very Successful Exhibition

The Sixth Annual Exhibition of the Red Deer Horticultural Society was held on Thursday in the Parish Hall and proved a success in spite of adverse circumstances.

As the Red Deer Fair was held too early in the year and also owing to a general scarcity of money, it had been a matter of some doubt as to whether it would be possible to hold a show this year. But it was thought best to make the attempt rather than allow this interesting annual event to lapse, and especially in view of its usefulness in promoting the beautifying of our city "The Garden City of Alberta." And the decision of the Committee has been fully justified by the result. Notwithstanding the heavy downfall of a week ago, and the destructive frost of some days earlier, a very creditable collection of flowers and vegetables was brought together, and the display in the fine Assembly room of the Parish Hall, which lends itself to such a show, gave great pleasure to the promoters of the exhibition and the large number of appreciative visitors who filled the hall during the afternoon and evening.

The ladies of St. Luke's Church had taken advantage of the occasion to provide tea and 25c supper together with ice cream, music, and the usual comfort of such a fête day. The profits, together with the proceeds of the sale of flowers and vegetables, being devoted to reducing the debt of the Parish hall. Other features of the show perhaps the most attractive were the beautiful pot plants sent in for exhibition by many citizens. Some of them were very fine and highly decorative. The vegetables display had perhaps not been so greatly injured by the frost as might have been expected, and the carrots, cabbages, potatoes and other vegetables were quite up to the Red Deer standard. Cut flowers were rather a weak exhibit, and the crowd of splendid sweet peas which have been so conspicuous a feature of former shows was reduced to a very small collection, amongst which, however, were some very choice specimens.

Amongst the principal prizewinners were: Messrs. John Reid, J. Chevalier, T. S. Miller, Walter Miller, C. H. Stone, Mrs. H. Moore, Jos. Cole, Mrs. R. B. Welliver, and the following also won prizes—Messrs. W. T. Coote, the Horticulturists, Mrs. F. Turnbull, Ladies College, Mrs. G. H. Bawtinheimer, Mrs. B. J. Gunn, Mrs. W. Loveland, Mr. W. J. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Sam Wilson, Mrs. E. Trump, Mr. D. G. Horn, Mrs. W. Russell, Mrs. K. Byers, Mr. D. M. Wright, Mrs. C. R. Assett, Miss L. Martin, Stewart Moore, Mrs. A. P. Olsen, Mrs. Stanley, Mr. L. J. Porter, Mrs. J. R. Scott, Mrs. L. A. Bennett, Mrs. John McMillan, Mr. E. Wilton, Mrs. G. W. Harper, Jessie Wright, Mary Reid, Geo. Reid, and Mrs. Miller.

The judge was Mr. W. R. Reader, Parks Superintendent, Calgary, who spent Wednesday in judging the various gardens entered in the garden competition. Mr. Reader expressed himself highly pleased with the excellence of the gardens and grounds entered in the competition, but remarked that he thought it a pity there were not more entries, as he considers it the most important work of the Horticultural Society to encourage the townspeople generally to have beautiful homes.

In the Garden Competitions: winner of the first prize in class I, gardens over 50 feet. For the best laid out grounds, was Mr. T. S. Miller; second prize was won by Mr. John Reid.

In class II for gardens under 50 feet frontage, the first prize went to Mr. T. S. Miller; second Mr. C. H. Stone.

Other winners were as follows: Cultivated lawn—1 John Reid; 2 T. S. Miller; 3 Village of North Red Deer.

Display of flowers in beds and borders—1 T. S. Miller; 2 John Reid; 3 Village of North Red Deer.

Vegetable garden—1 T. S. Miller; 2 John Reid; 3 Village of North Red Deer.

Alberta College, North Edmonton

The most remarkable individual success of Alberta College North Edmonton, during the year 1915 and 1916, and one that probably has never been excelled even if equalled anywhere in Western Canada was that attained by Miss Ada Anderson, a young Scandinavian girl sixteen years of age.

Miss Anderson was born in Sweden, and before coming to Western Canada had gone to school in Sweden for eight months. In Alberta, she attended public school for four short summer terms.

Miss Anderson came to Alberta College North last September, from her home in Limbrook near Tofield, without her high school entrance standing and in eight months succeeded in covering the work described in Grades IX, X, and XI of the high school and passed her matriculation to the University of Alberta accomplishing in eight months what usually takes three years. Miss Anderson also won the College Gold Medal for general proficiency and the University of Alberta scholarship for the highest standing in the Province. At the present time Miss Anderson is teaching a public school near Tofield, Alberta.

Working On C.N.R. Bridge

A visit to the north bank of the Red Deer river where the Canadian Northern Railway grade reaches it gives ample evidence that the C.N.R. railway bridge is without a doubt to be started at once.

Murphy's bridge gang consisting of thirty-five men, teams, etc., are located in twelve large tents near the road crossing the grade at the north bank of the river, and are busy hauling piles, and timbers from the spur at Hurbank for the wooden bridge which will be erected over the river for use until steel may be obtained. Men are brushing the land at the north end of the bridge, the timber will be worked into shape for use in the bridge. The pile driver, and engine are on their way to the bridge, and upon their arrival work will start on the driving of the piles, of which a large supply are already on hand.

This gang will be located here all winter and it is expected the bridge will be completed by spring when steel can be laid into the city limits. An engineers' camp is also located at the bridge to look after grade, and bridge levels.

Not Over Yet

Johnny had just started learning history, and very proud of himself he was. One evening, as he sat studying his lesson, he thought he would test his grandfather's knowledge of the subject, so he asked:

"Grandpa, do you know what great war broke out in 1850?"
The old man raised his head from the reading paper and looked thoughtfully at the lad. Then a sudden light came into his eyes.

"Why," said he, "that was the year I married your grandmother!"

ALBERTA EDITORS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Calgary Extended a Right Royal Welcome

Although the Alberta and Eastern B.C. Press Association had not met for two years owing to the war, the meeting called for August 24 and 25 at Calgary last week was a pronounced success.

Among those present were: R. Sutherland, News, Nelson, B.C.; Louis J. Ball, News, Vernon, B.C.; A. J. N. Terrill, News, Medicine Hat, Alta.; S. P. Hodson, Review, Okotoks; R. N. Williams, Standard, Telford; M. R. Jennings, Journal, Edmonton; P. Burton, Globe, Cardston; Geo. M. Thompson, News-Telegram, Calgary; P. C. Steele, Leader, Raymond; H. E. Osmond, Pioneer, Lethbridge; L. D. Albertson, Chronicle, Chas. V. C. French, Times, Wetaskiwin; J. H. Woods, Herald, Calgary; Geo. O. Baetz, Conservator, Fort Saskatchewan; A. L. Horton, Observer, Vegreville; H. G. Howell, News, Viking, W. M. Davidson, Alberta, Calgary; P. H. Schooley, Guardian, Lacombe; Charles Clark, Times, High River; F. W. C. French, Advocate, Red Deer; John Caswell, News, Red Deer; George Gordon, Herald, Ponoka; Geo. M. Westland, Province, Innisfail; A. P. McEwen, Press, Dryden.

Mayor Costello extended a hearty welcome to the visiting press men, the more hearty, we presume, because he had himself been a newspaper man and knew the trials and tribulations of newspaper men these strenuous times.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Mr. Galbraith's address was, in part, as follows: "Three momentous years have passed since last we met. We have seen the wave of a boom prosperity crash, and have had to get down to hard pan, with heavy financial obligations on us in many associations; and, most serious of all, we have seen our empire and our national life drawn into the maelstrom of war, the most stupendous that mankind has ever experienced. Our first vice-president, Mr. Foster, and others among us have answered the call to the defence of our national ideals, which are the breath of life to a free and democratic people. Your secretary has three sons in khaki across the water, and his fellow members have offered of their best in their proportion. And we are far from taking back what we have given: if I know aught of the newspaper men of Alberta and British Columbia, their disposition is to spend every energy, to make every sacrifice, to press the battle to the gates.

"The phases of the business concern now facing us I comment to your attention: I simply indicate them. One, a conference at this convention as to how the new militia regulations in regard to recruiting will affect the newspaper, and how far a newspaper can be shown to be a public necessity in wartime. Another, the ensuring of adequate recognition, at the least, of the publicity given by the press to patriotic and other professional philanthropic organizations: the patriotic fund has started this year to give credit for subscriptions on account of advertising and publicity. And a third—the consideration of ways and means to procure additional revenue to meet the materially increasing charges now falling on the newspaper offices.

The libel bill, held over from the session of 1913, was taken up again by your president and other members of the association early in the following session and, thanks to the general and his staff on their arrival and immediately after were conveyed in automobiles to a distant part of the camp, where a number of bomb-throwers gave a realistic demonstration of a night raid on the enemy's lines. This was followed by a trench attack under pretended cover of darkness, another group gave an exhibition of Swedish drill and a bayonet charge.

But the climax of the afternoon's performance was a demonstration of the frontal attack on a hill, with about 200 men. Trenches of standard depth about 200 yards apart represented the firing lines and communicating trenches. After an artillery bombardment supposedly of many hours' duration, the first wave of the attack caused from the trenches and went forward apparently into their own artillery fire, but the hail of shells suddenly switched to play upon the reserves and communications, as the bombers threw their first shower of grenades into the enemy trench the second wave advanced to wipe out the first. The attacking bombers extended the ground gained. Then the third line swept over No Man's Land, followed by the stretcher-bearers and the working party carrying tools, sandbags, reserve ammunition and grenades. The party left in the trenches massed on both sides, and supported the attacks with covering fire to prevent the flims from bringing an enfilading machine gun fire. The spectacle covered a period of ten or fifteen minutes, and was a most impressive exhibition.

THE NEW OFFICERS

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, A. J. N. Terrill, News, Medicine Hat.

First vice-president, V. C. French, Times, Wetaskiwin.

Second vice-president, E. N. Williams, Standard, Telford.

Third vice-president, W. M. Davidson, the Herald, Lethbridge.

Executive: F. Burton, Globe, Cardston; Charles Clark, Times, High River; M. R. Jennings, Journal, Edmonton; A. D. Horton, Observer, Vegreville; J. H. Woods, Herald, Calgary; J. A. Caswell, News, Red Deer.

B.C. EDITORS WITHDRAW

A resolution introduced by Editor Sutherland of the Nelson Daily News provides for the severance of the British Columbia and the Alberta contingents of the association. On Thursday afternoon this resolution was seconded by Editor Ball of Vernon. Final action was not taken, but a committee was appointed to consider the details of such a separation and report to the session of the convention which would be held on Friday morning in the same place. There was no dissenting voice, so that in all likelihood the present convention will be the last meeting at which newspapermen of both provinces will meet as members of the one provincial organization.

In the discussion plans of a joint meeting to be held at Vernon some time in the near future were discussed. The Vernon convention will be a congress of representatives of the separate associations of both provinces.

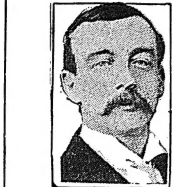

ENTERTAINMENT PROVIDED

On behalf of the managers of the pantages and the Grand theatres, G. M. Thompson extended invitations to the gathered newspapermen and their ladies to attend the performances at those houses. An invitation to visit the Sarcee camp was also accepted. The ladies of the Women's Press club entertained the visiting newspapermen's wives and ladies at 4.30 o'clock on Thursday.

THE VALUE OF HARMONY

F. E. Trautman, of the Canadian Pacific publicity department at Winnipeg, was asked to address the convention. Mr. Trautman explained the purpose of his visiting the conventions of newspapermen, stating that it was the aim of the Canadian Pacific to work in harmony with the newspapers of the country as far as possible, that that corporation would accede to the wishes of the newspapermen in any reasonable case and that a harmonious understanding between both would ultimately result in good to the country as a whole. It was his opinion that rather than stir up a fuss over small matters pertaining to the railways the editors should take the subject up with the railway officials and they would be treated with courtesy and would get results.

On Friday afternoon a unique military spectacle was put on at Sarcee Camp by General Crueshank and the headquarters staff in honor of the members of the Press Association.

The party journeyed to the camp on the scenic car, were received by the general and his staff on their arrival and immediately after were conveyed in automobiles to a distant part of the camp, where a number of bomb-throwers gave a realistic demonstration of a night raid on the enemy's lines. This was followed by a trench attack under pretended cover of darkness, another group gave an exhibition of Swedish drill and a bayonet charge.

But the climax of the afternoon's performance was a demonstration of the frontal attack on a hill, with about 200 men. The party left in the trenches massed on both sides, and supported the attacks with covering fire to prevent the flims from bringing an enfilading machine gun fire. The spectacle covered a period of ten or fifteen minutes, and was a most impressive exhibition.

From this, the visitors were driven all the way round the camp, inspecting every interesting detail of work and equipment.

At 4.30 tea was served at the headquarters office, after which Mr. Henderson, should be the retiring president of the association, expressed the appreciation of the party, and the editors gave three cheers and a hurrah.

Before going out to camp, the party was taken on the scenic car, as guests of the street railway department, to the look-out on Crescent Heights, where they inspected the construction operations for the new Central street bridge.

Haultain Probe Has Only Begun

NUMEROUS RAW DEALS HAVE BEEN REVEALED

Regina, Aug. 26.—Just a few illustrations of how the alleged graft on the Battleford asylum was operated have so far been disclosed before the Haultain commission, now sitting here. The Conservatives charge that in its construction, the total contract price of which was $1,200,000, the contractors were allowed excess profits of $401,600. Before the Haultain Commission they are now engaged, in proving the truth of the charges.

WHAT HAS BEEN FOUND OUT
Some of the things the commission has already ascertained may be briefly set out.

It was found that, although the contractors were allowed to substitute cheaper materials than specified in nearly 200 items, and were allowed to omit many things the specifications called for, there was only one deduction made from the contract price. This was $3,200 for the omission of the temperature control, which it is estimated would cost $8,000 to install.

The footings on the main building were reported by the inspector to have been increased 37 1/2 per cent., while the government paid for a 50 per cent. increase.

SOFT FOR CONTRACTORS
Changes in the drainage system were authorized, which would, according to a letter of the architect, result in "a considerable saving," and four days later the deputy minister awarded the contractors $1,000 for making the changes which were to have resulted in a saving.

Of three tenders for the contract on the main building, two were of the "friendly" variety, i.e., put in by other contractors at the request of the successful tenderer at a higher figure to justify his tender.

RADIATORS GONE

It was found that 1,400 sections of radiators in the main building were found unnecessary and removed, and that these were sold by the deputy minister to the contractors for $150. Subsequently, another deputy minister being appointed, the deal was upset. The contractors turned back 1,000 sections; what became of the rest no one knows.

It was found that Hon. A. P. McNab, minister of public works, had let the contract for the plumbing and heating to the Regina Plumbing and Heating company at $245,000, though the government engineers had estimated the cost at $176,000, though the architect, Messrs. Storey & Van Edmond, protested vigorously, and though changes had been suggested by which the cost could be reduced from $176,000 to $150,000, without waiting to make inquiries or to get a better figure.

BROWN'S SOFT SOAP
It was found that Ernest Brown, who drew the plans and supervised the construction of the waterworks and sewage systems of the asylum, was to get five per cent, on the cost for his services; that he had drawn $1,000 on this account before he was made deputy minister of public works, when his commission was supposed to have stopped; that Storey and Van Edmond had put in a bill for $4,800 less the $1,000 already paid Brown; that Brown as deputy minister O.K.'d the account; and that Storey and Van Edmond, after deducting $100 for inspecting the plant one day, had sent the rest of the money back to Brown. This, Hon. Mr. McNab said, was without the knowledge of the government.

MORE SENSATIONS

It was found that, in the warehouse contract, a letter sent by the deputy minister to the main contractors informed them that all contractors were being asked to have their tenders in his office by a certain date. The deputy minister swore that no other contractors had been notified at all.

The evidence so far has been largely preliminary, and will develop in a more sensational manner from time to time as the inquiry proceeds.

The commission will be sitting for another month on the asylum investigation. Then it has the construction of the Regina jail and charges of graft in the telephone department to investigate.

Binder Topped Over And Broke His Neck

Saskatchewan Farmer Meets
Death in a Peculiar Fashion

Moose Jaw, Sask., Aug. 22. — D. Main, of Maplebush, near Elbow, Sask., was instantly killed on Saturday last when a binder under which he was working fell, striking him on the back of the head and breaking his neck. Main had blocked the binder up for the purpose of taking out the "hull" wheel and while working at it, the blocks gave way. His hired man was also under the machine, and was caught and had to wait until help came before he was released. The deceased is survived by a father and mother and three sisters and four brothers.

Had Never Seen Cream

The times through which we are passing have caused many a man to change his views, admits the Lacina Enquirer. They had this effect on an East Side milkman who decided to become honest.

On the third morning he was taken aback when he called for the payment of his weekly bill and a customer began to shriek at him.

"You needn't serve me any longer," she said, "and I'm not going to pay you for the last two days."

"Why, what's the trouble?" he inquired anxiously.

"Trouble, indeed. When the milk you've been leaving yesterday and the day before stood a couple of hours there was a nasty thick scum on it."

And it took him half an hour to explain what cream was.

Alberta Farmers' Live Stock Bulletin

August 26, 1916
Cattle. The favorable market for fat and feeder cattle continued all the week, until Friday, when the heavy run had a tendency to break prices.

The very top for fat steers was $6.50, with average lots selling at from $6.00 to $6.25. Cows $5 Feeder $6.00. Hogs $11.20 was the highest point reached on hogs all Thursdays and Friday's receipts selling at this figure, buyers allowing shippers full benefit of C.P.R. billings. The market looked ready to go lower, as we had a restricted outlet.

Due to all the demand being for light select hogs, buyers are quoting a still more serious grading to take effect Monday as follows: Heavies 250-300 pounds 1c duck, over 300 2c; titty sows up to 300, 3c; over 300, 4c; piggy sows, up to 300, 3c; over 300 4c; stags up to 300, 5c; hogs $8.25, over 300, 6c; (Cattle prices this week a year ago $6.50, Hogs $8.25.)

Steers, fat, common to choice butcher $6.00-$6.50
Heifers, common to choice heavy butcher 5.25-5.50
Cows, choice 5.00
Cows, common 4.00
Cows, canner 2.00-2.50
Stags 3.75-4.25
Oxen 4.50-5.00
Veal calves, 200-300 8.00-8.50
Veal calves, 400 6.00-6.25
Light feeding steers 6.00-6.25
Light feeding heifers 6.25-6.50
Springers, choice $7.50-$8.00
Springers, common $5.50-$6.00
Sheep—Good wethers 8.25-8.50
Ewes 7.50
Lambs 9.00
Hogs, select weighed off cars $11.00

N.B.—Packers are responsible for the heavy grading on rough hogs. We cannot compel a buyer to buy something that he does not want, or cannot use.

"The Customer is Always Right"

HIS is the text or motto of a great and famous department store in Chicago. It is an assertion of the customer's place of supremacy in the relation between buyer and seller.

Any retailer who slights his customer is committing business suicide. The customer wants those who serve him or her to use the newspaper as a vehicle for their announcements of goods or service.

This is the modern and right idea. Newspaper advertisements give desired business news in the right place and at the right time. To ignore your customer's wishes in this matter is to commit a costly mistake—far more costly than newspaper space.

TO THE MERCHANTS OF RED DEER

Keep your eyes on your customers and humor them. It pays to do so. Keep very close to them—by means of advertisements in "The News."

SEVEN YEARS TORTURE

Nothing Helped Him Until He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

ALBERT VARNER

Buckingham, Que., May 8th, 1915. For seven years, I suffered terribly from Severe Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas from the stomach, bitter stuff would come up into my mouth after eating, while at times I had nausea and vomiting, and had chronic Constipation. I went to several doctors and wrote to a specialist in Boston but without benefit. I tried many remedies but nothing did me good. Finally, a friend advised "Fruit-a-tives". I took this grand fruit medicine and it made me well. I am grateful to "Fruit-a-tives", and to everyone who has miserable health with Constipation and Indigestion and Bad Stomach, I say take "Fruit-a-tives", and you will get well.

Help To Make Your Own Place More Valuable

WHAT THE HOME TOWN MEANS TO YOU

The closer your land is to a good town, the more money it takes to buy it. We all know that. At the first thing the owner tries to do when you offer for a piece of land, is to justify the high price he is asking by pointing out how close the land is to town and the good roads leading to it. He knows this is the most appealing argument he can put up.

Land close to town and adjoining good roads is not only desirable because crops can be marketed with the least trouble and expense, but there are other social and economical advantages as well. Consider the cold matter of what a town is worth to the people owning land in the vicinity, measured in dollars and cents standpoint. Mr. O. R. Johnson of the Missouri Agricultural Station made a careful investigation of 650 farms and he proved by actual figures what a lot of us have known in a general way for a long time.

THE COLD FIGURES—READ THEM

For instance, in the locality investigated, the 79 farms within two miles of town had an average value of $75.70 per acre as compared with $70.20 per acre for the 183 farms from two to four miles from town; $60.00 per acre for the 126 farms four to six miles from town; $58.50 for the 113 farms six to eight miles from town, and $55.90 for the 149 farms over eight miles from town. This leads up a step further. Once we commence asking questions, we no sooner have one of them answered than we ask another. Our first question was "What's the good of the home town?" and we answered it by saying that, among other things, it really donated $10,000 to one man and like amounts, proportionately, to every other man owning land in the community.

that 42 farms valued at $100 or more per acre, had an average haul of about two and one-half miles of $10,000, while the same kind of a farm located six and one-half miles from town was only worth $8,400. And still, if you told the man who owned the first farm—and the second town was actually worth in dollars and cents to him, personally, $10,000 he would probably spend a good deal of time trying to show you that he would be better off without the town at all. We have gotten so in the habit of lambasting our home town most of the time for some petty political reason, that we frequently cease to see the truth when it is placed before us in actual figures.

Just the same, when we get off by ourselves, overcome our jealousies and temporarily forget about the town man that we have it in for, then we really have to admit that the home town is far and away the most valuable asset to every man, woman, and child in the community. This leads up a step further. Once we commence asking questions, we no sooner have one of them answered than we ask another. Our first question was "What's the good of the home town?" and we answered it by saying that, among other things, it really donated $10,000 to one man and like amounts, proportionately, to every other man owning land in the community.

Now we ask the second question, "What makes a real, live, valuable home town?" We might dodge the question by answering "Lots of things," but, really, if we are honest, we will get close to the truth by saying, "The merchants." Because without the merchants there would be no town. It is just as impossible to have a town without merchants as it is to have a lake without water. The merchants make the town just as the water makes the lake. Of course, other things have to be favorable, but the merchants that without merchants, you would have no town, and the better the mercantile establishments, the better the town—always.

Now, we move along to the third question. "How is the home town to have good merchants?" Dear friends, there is no secret about it. At all. Good stores in your home town are

THE RESULT OF GROWTH. THEY HAVE TO BE INVITED, ENCOURAGED AND MAINTAINED.

You have to get them just like you maintain superior cattle, horses and hogs, by treating them fairly and giving them a chance to grow. In the language of the street, "You can't play a lone hand in your community and get away with it very long." And the business game is just the same. If the town is to help you, you must help the town and the beauty of it is, by benefiting the town, you always and invariably benefit yourself most.

These benefits are direct and indirect. Building up the town adds dollars to the value of your land and other fixed investments. That point is settled. Nobody seriously disputes it. It means greater social and educational advantages, benefits that cannot be measured by dollars and cents, but while apparently indirect, they are direct again in the sense that they add to the value of your fixed investments, because these are among the desirable things for which people generally are willing to pay.

YOU ARE A STOCKHOLDER

In summing up, as the lawyers say, out all the evidence and considering few pertinent facts, you first want a good home town, and you want it as near to you as possible. You do not want a town with roads leading to it. Now, to have a good town, you must have good stores—there is no other way of doing it—and to have good stores and good merchants, you must give them a chance to live, thrive and grow. You must treat them fairly. You do not abuse your stock, because such treatment does not pay, and the same personal interest is at stake in community building. You must consider the merchants of your town as a community investment in which you are both indirectly and directly interested. You are a stockholder, as it were, in your home town, the better you make your home town, the better your investment will be. You can't make your home town better unless you are on the square with it and give the business interest the proper chance to develop in normal and legitimate growth. Remember the story of the farmer who was so selfish and shortsighted that he tried to make money by stuffing his hogs. When he finally sold the hogs, he found that he had paid a mighty big price for the feed he had saved.

WHAT YOU MIGHT LOSE

Just how many of us have driven into town with any thought of what our loss would be if that town were wiped out entirely and never replaced? How many of us have ever thought of the town really meant anything to us except as a subject for a little wild talk on our part at a party? How many of us have considered that the merchants of the town were conferring upon us, and upon all members of the community, advantages worth in dollars and cents immeasurably more than any profits they got out of us? If we woke up some morning and found that five thousand dollars' worth of uninsured buildings had gone up in smoke during the night, we wouldn't need anyone to explain how the loss was going to hurt us. "How long does it take to go to town?" is a more common question than, "How far is it?"

A farm on a good road, one that can be used with speed and comfort every day in the year, is nearer to town, from a practical standpoint, at six miles than another is at three, if on a "rotten" road.

And don't forget that distance, nowadays, is quite often measured by time. "How long does it take to go to town?" is a more common question than, "How far is it?"

Thiepval Ridge, One of Toughest Parts of Somme, Has Been Taken

British Curtain of Fire Most Deadly of Seven Weeks' Battle

HUMAN BEINGS COULD NOT LIVE IN DEADLY FIRE

With the British Army in France, August 22, via London, August 23.—The artillery commander drew his patent curtain of fire and never in all the seven weeks of the Somme battle has the correspondent witnessed anything equal to the "show" as the artillery officers call every action in the taking of this ridge.

Ever since July 1, when the British failed in their efforts to storm it, Thiepval ridge has glared at the British who had kept hammering it with gunfire. The Germans seemed to set the same store on it as they did by the heights of Ginchy and Guillemont, on their other flank.

SAID TO BE IMPREGNABLE

In front of the position captured yesterday the British machine guns were just as strong as then with deep dugouts, the result of two years' fighting. The British have taken every advantage possible in the offensive. The British never vaulted out of a ditch on that ridge. Those taken yesterday who had been at Verdun said they suffered nothing there at all equivalent to the death and agony of the British who were taken yesterday. It was the very essence of war.

With the clear air of a bright afternoon sun over his shoulder, he looked across the tiny valley toward a slope. There the bare ground was cut with the slash of a new British trench and beyond that across an all equivalent to the death and agony of the British who were taken yesterday. It was the very essence of war.

CAPSULES OF CONCENTRATED HELL

A Niagara rush of swishing screams from capsules of concentrated hell tore through the air and began bursting in the German trenches. It was an infernal ecstasy, sweeping it with myriads of bullets and fragments, shooting forked tongues of death into the air. The British dugouts and escape being hit and hit more than once was a thick hailstorm without being hit by an enemy bullet. Some Germans who trusted in flight rather than sticking to a dugout when the fire died down of projectiles came, were seen running toward the open, away from this swath of destruction.

Now one of the British trench appeared a row of khaki tinted mushrooms, the steel helmets the British soldiers wear, then their heads and shoulders and the German trench charge went over the parapet. Every man was in full equipment with all its details visible, every figure uniform with all others to the last item.

Terrible Cost of Forest Fires in North Ontario

Three Hundred Lives Lost, 600,000 Acres of Forests Destroyed, Timber Loss of $6,000,000.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—Between 600,000 acres of the forest area have been burned in the northern Ontario bush fires, nearly 300 lives were lost, about $6,000,000 of timber destroyed and 600,000 acres of forest land lost. The worst property was lost, according to Clyde Leavitt, forester of the commission of conservation and chief fire inspector for the railway commission, who with Robson Black, secretary of the Canadian Forestry association, has just returned from an inspection of the devastated country.

"Our visit to the burned area," said Mr. Leavitt, "only confirms the opinions we had already formed of the disaster and also the need of some better system in Ontario of forest protection. The cause of the loss was settlers' clearing operations. Settlers were clearing the woods and made clearing fires. There is no restriction as to place and time as in forestry fires. They are made at any time and in any place. The wind which swept everything before it.

"The fires are still going on there while we wait for this dry weather is in progress. I see that a woman and six children were burned this week. The rains did not stamp out the fires. They are still smoldering all over the country."

LACK OF BROOMSTICKS

The housewives of Glasgow have been forced to hardship through their failure to lay in a supply of broom handles before the war. These handles came from northern Europe, the British and French people of the service which they had rendered and the spirit which they had shown.

A range you can easily control

It is wonderfully simple and easy to regulate both your cooking and the expenditure of fuel—money. And easy to manage, means easy to economize, you know.

All the Kootenay controls are on the outside. For instance, how infinitely easier to control the damper from the front of the stove—the Kootenay way—than to bend over the hot top to reach it! Surprising how quickly one gets almost complete control of every bit of heat, making it do your bidding. You keep an eye on the thermometer, and the smokepipe fuel saver, handy dampers, and on the oven that loses no heat; all work together for splendid cooking at least expense.

You want to know about the sensible ideas for saving time, the fine bakings you can do with a small amount of fuel, and the way the range withstands the wear and tear that wrecks ordinary ranges; its aluminum flues mean long life to the range because the coated steel linings are rust-proof; asbestos joints prevent leakage of air at joints.

The new booklet, just off the press, tells everything in an interesting way. Tear out the coupon and send it to the factory. Before you forget, and certainly before you buy a range, get your copy.
